The Canberra Law Students' Society ("CLSS") aims to enhance the experience of all law and justice students at the University of Canberra by providing the student body with advocacy, academic competitions, social, networking and careers events, skill building seminars, education and social justice forums.

As one of the most established Faculty Clubs at the University of Canberra. It provides services for over 800 students and maintains strong working relationships with the Faculty of Business, Government & Law, Canberra Law School and the legal industry.

Equity

The University of Canberra values equity and diversity, and seeks to embody these values in its staff, students and academic programs.

CLSS also fosters these values and acknowledges its diverse members each year through events and initiatives including International Women's Day, NAIDOC Week, and the Equity Book Scheme.

Competitions

Competitions are an integral part of the law school experience. They are a great way to gain knowledge of the practical skills that are a part of practicing law, and get you involved with other law students and personalities from the legal community.

The CLSS facilitates internal and external Mooting, Witness Examination, and Negotiation competitions each year. We also publish a Competitions Guide each year.

Careers

At every stage of your studies, the Careers Portfolio can provide tools to help you towards your desired career.

The annual Careers Fair and subsequent publication of the Careers Guide are key aspects to this portfolio. We also run an annual Clerkship Information Evening, providing students the opportunity to speak directly to Clerkship providers in the ACT.

Education

The Education Portfolio is one of our most important at the CLSS. As students, we understand what it is like to study at university and the kind of issues you may face.

In order to help you with your studies we offer a number of services, such as advocacy, study group facilitation, and study skills workshops.

Socials

Socials are a huge part of the CLSS year and are a welcome break from the monotony of studying! The CLSS hosts several social events during the year including Welcome Drinks, our annual (and always extravagant) Law Ball, and more!

Wellbeing

The aim of the Wellbeing portfolio is to create a safe space and promote a healthier lifestyle for all law and justice students at the University of Canberra.
